2012 Monty's Research Farm Discovery # 3

Monty's Research Farm located in Shelby County, Ky on the farm of Paul Hornback, conducted trials this 2012 season. In the data above the Season Pass product was being used in the market place so we tested it by itself and then added our Monty's Liquid Carbon with activated humic technology to the same product and used at the same rate with 2 qt/a of our product added to enhance the performance of the original product.

The difference with using 2 qt/a of liquid carbon combined with the season pass at 3 gal/a enhanced the yield potential by 17%. These kind of trials help support Monty's suggestion of our products being a management tool for controlling your crops response to stresses during the growing season.
